FOR HONOR MARCHING FIRE™

The logo of the University of North Dakota is located on the left side of the image. It features a stylized, fierce-looking bison head in white and gold, set against a purple shield-like background with decorative elements.
